Lift-up opening for flat linear glasses 080 System

The new 080 system has been conceived with an essential design, thus being intended as an always up-to-date choice. It can perfectly fit in with any rooms; thanks to its several customized options, it can be easily embedded in all kind of interior designs. This hardware allows for a greater visibility of the displayed products, also thanks to the flat surfaces that minimize reflection and refraction. With this easy-made system, both linear as well as corner display counters can be designed based on the greatest creativity. The 080 system, best suitable for serviced counters, can be perfectly used also on self-service displays. This new hardware system will be included in our general catalogue starting from January 2009 but it is already available for our customers.
